REBELS KILLING THEIR PRISONERS

Such Procedures May Determine Action by the United States.

PROBE TO BE ORDERED

Denial That Charge D'Affaires O'Shaughnessy is to Leave Mexico City or Lind Vera Cruz.

Washington, Nov. 17—An investigation of the wholesale execution of federal soldiers in Juarez after the constitutionalists captured that city last Saturday, is being made by the United States Government.

It became known in Washington today that an immediate investigation has been ordered by President Wilson, and on the outcome of it will depend the Administration's future steps.

President Wilson's plans for the ousting of Huerta are more mysterious today than ever. There is, according to unquestionable authority, no plan of mediation on foot.

There is no intention on the part of the Administration to withdraw either O'Shaughnessy or Lind from Mexico, and thereby break off negotiations. Nor, have O'Shaugnessy or Lind been ordered from Mexico.

Dr. William Payard Hale has been instructed to make no overtures to Carranza looking to the co-operation of the rebel chieftain in the plans of the United States.

Yet President Wilson is as hopeful today of a successful outcome of his plans as he was last Thursday when he announced that the situation looked much more favorable." He said as much today to callers, and when pressed to explain this in the face of Huerta's refusal to dissolve Congress and the dismissal of Minister Aldalpe from the dictator's cabinet, the President indicated only that the mills of the gods grind slowly.

Aside of this, the Aministration is apparently not the least perturbed by the events of the last forty-eight hours. Last Saturday the United States had taken the position that the new congress should not assemble yet on that day the congress met. It was believed that the United States was depending on members of Huerta's cabinet to persuade Huerta to give in, yet Aldalpe, the principal friend of the United States in the cabinet has been forced to resign. It became known today that the President ahs never depended on such assistance for his plans. It had been thought that before considering the question of raising the embargo on arms the President would ascertain the aims of Carrazna yet it was stated on highest authority today that he had made no study of Carrazna's purposes nor any overtures to him. Finally it was stated today that there were no plans on foot for action by a Pan-American union of several South American countries with the United States.

At the same time, however the Administration laid emphasis on the fact that Brazil had never recognized Huerta and that both Brazil and Chile had announced that they would follow the lead of the United States.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The attitude of England, and probably all the other important European powers, toward Mexico and President Wilson's Mexican policy will be one of strict neutrality. The British government has transmitted to Washington through Ambassador Page its reply to President Wilson's communication announcing his determination to eliminate General Huerta from power in Mexico. Sir Edward Grey, the English Foreign Minister, said that England would not interfere in any way.

Leaders in both houses of Congress are inclined to believe that President Wilson may agree to an adjournment of the special session of Congress on Saturday. This would give a recess of one week, enable a considerable proportion of those who have remained here on guard to make a hasty visit to their homes, and would pacify the great body of the membership of both houses that is clamoring for mileage. This question of mileage is an important item to many members, and enables them to eke out a living in the National Capital in these days of high cost of living.

Climbing upon a chair in front of a bureau in the bedroom of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Turner, of 419 10th street, northeast, Washington, Walter F. Turner 17 months old, the only child of the couple, last night found a blue bottle full of tablets and he ate one of them. In a little while Mrs. Turner noticed that Walter was sick. Then Mr Turner happened to go up stairs, found the stopper of the little blue bottle lying on the floor of his bedroom and an apparent shortage of the bottle's contents. There is no hope for the child.

John R. A. Lannom, of Louisville, Ky., a Yale sophomore, fell from a second-story window at Durfee Hall at Yale while walking in his sleep early yesterday, and was instantly killed. His skull was fractured.

Charged with having garroted her two sons, aged 2 and 3 years, and then attempting to hang herself, Mrs. Amelia Seabolt Banko, aged 26, of Portage, Pa., was lodged in jail at Ebensburg last night, accused of murder. Mrs. Banko was staying at the home of her father, William Seabolt. Early yesterday morning a noise was heard in the woman's room by members of the family. Mrs. Banko was found with a man's belt around her neck, hanging from a nail in the wall. She was cut down before she had been strangled. In the bed in the room were the bodies of the two little boys with pieces of clothes line knotted around their necks.

Nathan Smason, a pawnbroker, was murdered in his place of business in Kansas City, Kans., yesterday and his shop looted. The robbers carried away money, diamonds, and goods valued at $8,000. Smanson's body, with the head crushed from the blows of a hammer, was found by neighbors.

The Spanish steamer Balmes, with her cargo on fire, was towed into St. Georges Harbor, Bermuda, yesterday morning, convoyed by the Cunarder Pannonia. The latter vessel had on board 103 passengers taken off the Balmes last Friday morning in mid-ocean, when it was believed the vessel would be destroyed. The Pannonia resumed her voyage to New York.

The employers of Great Britain are forming a new union and purpose to raise a guarantee fund of $250,000,000 in order to protect themselves against strike movements by the trade unions and other labor organizations.

For theft of two eggs, Charles H. Thumel was sentenced in criminal court in Huntington, W. Va., to serve a year in the penitentiary. It was his second conviction on a charge of petit larceny.

From the first time that William Twist, of New York, saw Gaby Deslys dance on the stage he was so struck with her beauty and grace that he became infatuated with her. Although he was not personally acquainted with the dancer, Twist so revered her name that when Miss Louise White made a disparaging remark about the music hall performer early yesterday he drew a knife and stabbed Miss White to death. Then Twist gave himself up to the police.

SUFFRAGISTS BENT ON SEEING WILSON

Seventy Washington and New Jersey Women Will Visit White House.

TO PLEAD THEIR CAUSE

President Will be Compelled to Make It Plain That He Will Not Meet Delegation.

Washington, Nov. 17. — Seventy "neighbors" of President Wilson came from New Jersey to Washington to lay the cause of votes for women before him, and seventy women are going up to the White House to see him before lunch, whether they have an appointment or not.

Led by Mrs. E. E. Feichert, president of the New Jersey Suffrage Association, and by Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, president of the New Jersey Woman's Political Union, the women intend to put it up to the President flatly whether or not he will see them. Congressman McCoy, of Orange, N. J., agreed to use all his influence to secure a formal hearing for the women with the President, and the delegation gathered early at suffrage headquarters and awaited news from him. No news came till late in the morning and then it was learned that he had not been successful.

"We'll go up to the White House anyway," the Jerseyites at once agreed "and if the President don't want to se us he will have to make that evident himself"

Several of the women are personally acquainted with the President or with Secretary Tumulty, and most of them were active in the cause of the Democrats during the 1912 campaign. They made it plain that they will attempt no spectacular demonstration at the White House, but will insist on seeing the President until they are turned down flatly.

KOINER'S SUGGESTION.

Wants State Fund to Advertise Farming in Virginia.

Richmond, Va. Nov. 17.—In his annual report to the Governor, George W. Koiner, state commissioner of agriculture, strongly advocates that the next legislature provide a state appropriation wherewith to advertise to the world the splendid opportunities offered here for men of industry, economy and some capital to invest in our Virginia lands" In his report Commissioner Koiner points out that in 1900 the value af agricultural lands in Virginia was placed at $323,000,000 and that these values had increased by 1913 to $730,000,000, a gain of 132 per cent.

"We have not appreciated," says the Commissioner, "the great value of the state in widely and liberally advertising her wonderful resources. We have millions of idle acres. This would mean double the value of our land, much of which is now too cheap in price. Many farms now too large should be divided into smaller ones. A large and thrifty population in the communities would infuse new life into all kinds of business."

DOSED FOR A COLLAR BUTTON.

Snapping Noise at Back of Man's Head Traced at Last.

PLANTERS PROTEST AGAINST STRIKE

Cotton, Rice and Cane Crops Will Suffer From Present Tieup.

MASS MEETINGS HELD.

Demand Operation of Trains—Promise to Furnish Guards—Ctizens are Volunteering.

New Orleans, La. Nov. 17.— In nearly every Louisiana parish through which the Southern Pacific Railroad runs mass-meetings of citizens were held yesterday to protest against the strike of the railroad employes. The section is facing disaster, if the cotton, rice and cane crops are not moved at once. The most notable of these meetings, perhaps, was at Breaux Ridge, where representative planters from every section of rich St. Martin's Parish gathered. After sending the protest to President Wilson and others in Washington, the meeting adopted a resolution that is believed to mark a departure in American labor laws.

The planters formulated a demand upon the Southern Pacific Company to operate trains beginning at once in that section. Coupled with this was a promise to supply the railroad free of charge, with sufficient guards to see that there was no trouble of any kind, these guards to be armed and maintained at the expense of the planters.

Many leading citizens volunteered to take their turns upon the trains. Many shipments of rifles have been sent from New Orleans to points along the Southern Pacific lines presumably to the voluntee guards.

Many of the Louisiana manufacturing plants use oil for fuel, including the cotton gins, and the strike has caught them short in their busiest season. A number or big gins and several lumber plants between Crowley and Lake Charles were closed.

Only minor clashes were reported over the strike territory In New Orleans the announcement was made that the public belt railroad, owned by the city, will not transfer cars for the Sunset lines. This promises to cripple the fuel supply for the Morgan Line steamers.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS.

Also Put Under Peace Bond—Young Woman Complainant.

Richmond, Nov. 17.—Miss Cora Tibbs, a pretty young girl, told a story to Justice Crutchfield Saturday in police court that led to the imposing of a fine of $50 on Junius Strickland, 24 years old. He was also required to furnish a $300 peace bond for a year.

Strickland and his mother, Mrs. Lou Strickland, were arrested on a warrant sworn out by Miss Tibbs charging them with slander. After hearing the evidence, Justice Crutchfield announced that nothing had been proved against Mrs. Strickland and dismissed the complaint against her.

The testimony revealed that Miss Tibbs, whose parents are dead, used to board at the Strickland home. Soon after she left there a few months ago reports detrimental to her character were put in circulation, she told the court. None of the things said about her was truthful she declared.

Mrs. Strickland denied having discussed Miss Tibbs with anyone outside of her own family circle. "When she lived at our house Miss Tibbs was very friendly with my son," said Mrs. Strickland.

Strickland did not deny talking about Miss Tibbs and defended his actions on the ground that everything he had said was true. Justice Crutchfield rebuked him severely in passing sentence.

MRS. STEVENS WINS.

Mississippi Woman is Chosen President-General of Daughters of Confederacy.

New Orleans, Nov. 17.—In sessions enlivened by acrimonious debate and charges that "gag rule" was being invoked, the Daughters of the Confederacy elected officers Saturday and hurried through much routine work in time to adjourn that night. Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, of Brandon, Miss., was elected president-general by a unanimous vote after Mrs. N. D. Eller, of Va., had withdrawn. Charges that a caucus pledge of the Louisiana delegation had been broken during the re-election of Mrs. E. C. Schnabel, of Louisiana, as recording secretary-general, brought confusion in the convention. After it had been voted to have the secretary cast the entire convention vote for Mrs. Schnabel, a member of the Louisiana delegation said the delegation was not aware what was going on, and that the delegation had twenty-two votes against Mrs. Schnabel. When the election was declared closed and no explanations allowed the "gag rule" charge was made. Finally, however, one of the delegates was allowed to make a statement of her side of the case.

Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, was elected registrar-general, and Mrs. Frank A. Walke, of Virginia, custodian of flags and pennanats.

FOOD SUPPLY PROBLEM GRAVE

Public Officials and The Thoughtful People Are Becoming Anxious.

DEMAND AND SUPPLY.

Production Not Keeping Pace With Population—Cannot Depend Upon Importations.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Every day gives new evidence that thinking men among public officials to say nothing about students of economic conditions all over the country, realize the gravity of the question of food supply. With the population rapidly growing and the amount of available food not keeping pace with population growth the problem of wherewithal shall the hungry be fed gets more and more difficult.

The meat supply problem is a part of this food supply problem and it is becoming quite clear that in spite of free boats it is as far from solution as ever.

Secretary Houston has taken steps to study the meat problem or at least the beef production problem for the reason that he understands the need for the Government to do all possible to increase the beef supply and keep prices from soaring to the point where a steak will be a luxury.

A great national commission of experts to study the more economic production of beef is a probability. It has not been formally decided on, but it will probably grow out of a conference which was held Friday afternoon at the instance of Secretary Houston.

Assistant Secretary Galloway of the Department of Agriculture was in charge of the conference and there were present such experts in animal industry as George M. Rommell and Dr. Melvin of the department, with experts from Iowa, Kansas, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Minnesota. These are leading states in beef production.

The existing shortage of beef cattle in the country was discussed. In the same connection, it was admitted there is today a world shortage of cattle and little relief to the consumer need be expected from importations. It was agreed that existing methods of raising beef cattle are wasteful and uneconomic, as are also the methods of getting cattle to market, getting them converted into beef and put into the home of the consumer.

How to cheapen beef all the way from the hoof to the table of the consumer was debated.

The idea of the experts is that some way must be found to raise beef cattle more cheaply. They must be fed more fodder more grass and less expensive grain like corn. Vast amounts of corn fodder go to waste every year which could be converted into ensilage and used to develop beef cattle. Moreover, it was urged that farmers raise their own cattle and do less of the business of buying feeding cattle, holding them for a few months and then selling them to the butcher.

If the commission is named it will have a big field of study. But it is felt by Secretary Houston that if the beef interrogation point can be answered successfully it will go far to alleviate present conditions.

PROPOSE TO RAISE RATE

Coal Consumers and Dealers in Alexandria May Enter Protest Before Commission

A meeting of the principal coal consumers and dealers of Alexandria will be held at the Chamber of Commerce, at 4 p. m., Thursday, November 20th, to consider the advisability of taking action at the hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission, relative to the proposed increase in freight on coal of five per cent.

It was announced that the increase would go into effect on last Satday, but it has been postponed until March 12th next.

Consumers in Washington are also up in arms over the proposed increase, and they will have a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the 24th instant.

The tax upon coal recently imposed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania and the propsed increase in freight rates have caused great complaint, and Alexandria desires to unite in the protest which has been started in Washington.

CO-EDUCATION PREFERABLE.

Decided by Debate at High School Literary Society.

That co-education in Virginia is preferable to separate education was decided at the debate of the Alexandria High School Literary Society which was held Saturday night. The affirmative was upheld by Miss Madeline Martin while the negative side was represented by Miss Corrine Reardon and Jack Reardon. The declaimers were Frank Johnston, whose subject was the "Elegy on a country churchyard," and Hirst Hayes who delivered an extract from a speech in the House of Lords 1777 on "America." The society decided to permit freshmen to become members under certain restrictions.

VIRGINIA METHODISTS.

Next Session of Conference Will be Held in Portsmouth.

Danville, Va., Nov. 17.—The Virginia Methodists had a double-header session Saturday and adjourned at 5:30 o'clock in the evening until 9:30 this morning with two of the most spirited and interesting contests of the entire session pending and undetermined.

After three ballots with results announced and a fourth taken and sealed without counting until Monday, only three of the seven clerical delegates to the general conference had been chosen, though all the seven lay delegates had been selected.

At the hour of adjournment the conference was just getting well warmed up in debate on the woman question, the issue being a substitute for the committee recommendation on the question of extending limited lay rights to Methodist women.

The committee on memorials reported adversely a memorial from Lynchburg asking the conference to memorialize the general conference asking for full lay rights for women. The committee reported adversely on this, whereupon Rev. W. W. Royall, D. D., offered as an amendment, allowing women to preach.

The conference adjourned while the matter was pending.

The next session of the conference will be held in Monumental Church, Portsmouth, and the sum of $2,000 apportioned for conference expenses.

HUGGER CAUSES TERROR.

Stick to Their Home Nights, as if in Quarantine.

Phoenixville, Pa., Nov. 17.—Efforts of the police force to apprehend an active "Jack-the-Hugger" who has been terrorizing feminine residents of a portion of the borough for a week, have failed utterly, and women living within the territory which have witnessed his activities are remaining indoors at nights, as if they were quarantined.

The remarkable feature of this hugger's activities is that he usually swings out from a stout branch of an overhanging tree and drops to the sidewalk before his feminine victim, who is so astonished that she usually fails to cry out until after she has been vigorously embraced and the athletic hugger is running away.

A girl who had been hugged by him reached home, then fainted, and is confined to her bed. If the hugger is captured he will be roughly handled.

POLITICS AND PUBLIC SSHOOLS.

S. Gordon Cumming Proposes Amendment to State Constitution.

Richmond, Nov. 17.—A proposed amendment to the Constitution of Virginia is being drawn by S. Gordon Cumming, of Hampton, and will be offered at the next session of the General Assembly, eliminating the Governor and the Attorney-General as members of the State Board of Education. Mr. Cumming was found in the Law Library of the Court of Appeals yesterday afternoon, deep in constitutional questions. The experience of the recent campaign, in which he took part in a three-cornered fight with Attorney-General elect John Garland Pollard and retiring Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams, Mr. Cumming said, convinced him of the necessity of the change in order to separate the public school system from politics. The proposition for a constitutional amendment will be offered by one of Mr. Cumming's friends from the eastern part of Virginia as a substitute for the proposition of Delegate S. H. Love, of Lunenburg, for election of school superintendents by popular vote.

STAND COLLAPSES.

Accident at Park, Where Fishburne Wins Prep Football Championship.

Staunton, Va., Nov. 17.—The football championship for Viginia preparatory schools won Saturday afternoon at Athletic Park by Fishburne Military School over the Staunton Military Academy in a hotly contested game, the score being 25 to 14.

An accident of a very exciting character occurred that fortunately was attended by no fatalities. A portion of the bleachers gave way under the immense load, precipitating 100 or more persons to the gorund, many jumping on top of others as they felt the timbers yielding.

John R. Caricofe, an insurance man, the worst hurt, had a bad cut on the head, and was bruised about the body. G. Harry Steinbock had an arm broken and was bruised. Thomas Mitchell was badly bruised, while about twenty-five Staunton Military Academy cadets were more or less hurt, two having arms broken and another a leg twisted.

KILLS WIFE OF TWO MONTHS.

Wilmington Man Then Attempts Suicide With Dose of Poison.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 17.—E. W. Beaman, aged fifty-eight years, a well-known white man of Wilmington, yesterday afternoon shot and killed his wife of two months and then attempted suicide. The tragedy occurred on the Castle Hayne Road, a much frequented highway leading out of Wilmington, in plain view of scores of passersby. Beaman and his wife became estranged shortly after their marriage, but yesterday he sought a reconciliation, and induced his wife to take a ride with him. At a point not far from the city he obtained a Winchester rifle, he had evidently hidden for the purpose, and shot his wife twice, killing her instantly. He then plunged into the nearby woods and took strychnine. He was soon captured, being found unconscious, and was taken to a hospital. He is expected to live.

DEDICATE CATHOLIC CHAPEL.

Prelates Who Served in Two Armies Take Part in Ceremony.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 17.—In the dedication yesterday morning at Fair Oaks, of the first Catholic chapel ever erected on a battlefield in the South, the participants in the beautiful ritualistic ceremony, prelates and priests, once faced each other as soldiers, and fought in one of the bloodiest wars the world has ever known.

Nor was this unique feature of the celebration confined to the sanctuary, for within the body of the little church, or chapel, was the grandnephew of the gallant and able general commanding the Southern forces, who fought the battle on the very spot on which the chapel is located. Within the pews, too, were others who, during the mighty conflict between the states, wore the blue, and others who wore the gray. Some of these came from afar. The North, the South, the East and the West were represented. And then there were present the sons and the daughters, the grandsons and granddaughters of those who had taken part in the great struggle. All these came, but in the words of the eloquent Paulist, who preached the sermons, "Not as to War, but as to Peace."

SUICIDE IN NORFOLK.

Fired Bullet Into His Head While Alone at Home.

Norfolk, Nov. 17.—S. R. Holland, 59 years old, living at 226 Mount Vernon avenue, Port Norfolk, committed suicide Saturday afternoon by shooting himself in the head. No reason has been assigned for his act.

Mr. Holland was alone at home when he killed himself. His dead body was found by members of the family when they returned. The bullet was fired into his temple, causing instant death. No inquest was ordered.

MAY RENDER 35,000 IDLE

Three Hundred Cotton Mill Firemen Vote to Strike Today.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov 16—The operation of practically all the textile mills in the city may be affected by the action of 300 firemen, who voted today to strike tomorrow unless their demands for an eight-hour day are granted. There are about 50 cotton and woolen mills employing altogether 35,000 operatives. The men now work 12 hours and they want the shorter workday with no reduction of pay. The Steam and Operating Engineers' Union voted today to stand by the firemen if called upon, and the union officials expressed confidence of success because the State law permits manufacturing establishments to operate with unlicensed firemen for only one week at a time.

The newly organized Chamber of Commerce has offered its services to bring about a settlement in an effort to avert any such widespread suffering as was caused in the big strike of the mill operatives in 1912 when 2,000 men, women and children were idle for nine weeks.

COLD STORAGE A NECESSITY.

When the hens take their annual vacation and the price of eggs begins to soar it is always popular to lambast the cold storage man and hold him responsible for the inflated cost of hen fruit. Those who are loudest in their complaints of the present cost of eggs, nad who would like to have the cold storage people drawn and quartered and boiled in oil, do not stop to think what would happen next year if the storers of eggs would go out of business.

In the laying season eggs would be dirt cheap, for there would be an enormous over supply, and all producers would lose money; the sale of eggs would not pay for the food the hens consume. Then, when the moulting season arrived, and the hens ceased to lay there would be no stored product to fall back upon. The only eggs available would be such as the farmers were able to hold over without the aid of storage—and any one knows that an egg kept from two to six months any where else than in cold storage, would be unfit to eat We should have, then a relatively small supply, of home cured eggs and about one fresh-laid egg per week per head of population. Under such circumstances theprice of fresh eggs in Novebmer, instead of being 75 cents per dozen would be nearer to 75 cents a piece.

We can't get along without cold storage. We might improve upon the present system by storing eggs and distributing them under government auspices.

VIRGINIANS DISAPPOINTED.

There were many disappointed Virginians on Saturday when the football team representing the University went down in defeat before the sturdy lads from Georgetown. The boys from Charlottesville had been touted as sure winners and despite the disagreeable weather a large number of Alexandrians went to Washington to see the state's representatives win. But it was another case of overconfidence coupled with the famous Georgetown luck which is never so apparent as when a contest is staged with Virginia. With only a few seconds to play, and with the game virtually won by our boys a disastrous fumble gave Georgetown a touchback which permitted them to win the game by a score of 8 to 7.

For a moment the Virginia side of the field seemed stunned and then silently arose and walked from the field while the Georgetown supporters went wild with enthusiasm.

WOMEN THROW VITRIOL.

Unprecedented Outbreak in London May Result in Legislation.

London, Nov. 17.—The British Home Office is considering adopting more stringent regulations regarding drug stores selling acids and similar chemicals to women. This move is due to the unprecedented outbreak of vitrol-throwing in London.

Five serious cases were before Criminal Court judges this session. In two, women of social position are involved. Scotland Yard says the victims are chiefly men upon whom women take revenge for love affairs.

FLAG TRAIN AND SHOOT.

Engineer Opens Throttle and Copper Strike-Breakers Escape.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 17.—A Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train, carrying workers for the Copper Range Consolidated Mines, was attacked, yesterday near Ricedale, in the copper strike district. A number of shots struck the engine and coaches, but no one was injured.

The train was flagged at Ricedale When it had come almost to a stop men opened fire on the engineer with revolvers and ran toward the engine. The engineer put on full steam and the attacked party failed to board the train. A volley was fired at the last coach, which contained strike-breakers.

Attorneys for the mine-owners and the Western Federation of Miners will present aguments Tuesday before the Supreme Court at Lansing on the question of making the temporary injunction against picketing permanent.

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILES.

Struck By Doctor's Machine—Woman Dragged 130 Feet.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 17.—Struck by a passing automobile when he attempted to cross Springfield avenue betwene 51st and 52nd streets, an unidentified man, apparently fifty years old, was killed last night. Dr. J. S. Parker, owner and driver of the automobile has been placed under arrest.

A card bearing the name of Richard Henry, and the address No. 1137 Wilton street, was found in a coat pocket of the dead man. Investigation by the police disclosed the fact that the house at that address is vacant. A time key with the words "Brill Car Company" stamped on it was also found. Fro mthe key it is supposed that the man was a watchman at the car plant. The man was well dressed.

Senaca Falls, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Mrs John Kinnetz was dragged 130 feet by an automobile which, during a snow flurry Saturday night, struck the carriage in which she was riding She died in the Seneca Falls hospital today from concussion of the brain. Mr. Kinnetz escaped with a bruised side. The niece, Louise Kinnetz, was not injured.

TO SEE MISS WILSON'S RING

"Showing Off" Parties Will be Interesting Events in Capital.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Among the most interesting events to take place in the White House this week aside from the dinner party which the President and Mrs. Wilson have planned for Friday night, will be the frequent "showing off" parties which Miss Jessie Wilson and her sisters will hold surreptitiously from time to time.

These parties are planned for showing bits or all of the wedding finery and gifts to the girl friends of the Misses Wilson.

When the parties happen in the afternoon they are likely to be followed by a cup of tea.

Miss Wilson will show her engagement ring, a large white diamond, to 150 or more girls of the Congressional set, at a large buffet luncheon which Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of the speaker, and Mrs. Champ Clark,, will give on Wednesday at the Congressional Club.

Not less than a half dozen fur-trimmed gowns and coats are numbered in the modest trosseau of Miss Jessie Wilson.

One of the han somest is an evening coat, but narrow bands of fur are used on several gowns and coats, as well as a number of the hats already sent to the White House. There are two sets of furs included in the bridal array, while cuffs and collars of fur finish the costumes where narrow bands are used.

This trimming, with the use of velvet for several of the handsomest gowns, makes the trosseaus quite distinctive.

NAKED BABY WINS SUIT.

Mother Justified in Raising Son Sans Clothing, Court Holds.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 17.—Without a sign of clothes, but cooing and romping about on the floor and in his mother's arms, Rex Palmer, age six months, son of Mrs. Alice Palmer, was the centre of much attraction at the court house.

The baby's presence was due to his nakedness. His mother is raising him clotheless. Since his birth, she says, he never has worn a garment. Neighbors who saw him lying on a pallet in the yard in the cool October breezes complained, and mother and child were brought into the Juvenile Court.

"My baby weighs twenty pounds and is only six months old," declared Mrs. Palmer. "Does that look like he is suffering for want of clothes?"

Experts who examined the boy pronounced him perfect physically. He is tanned all over his body a dark brown but is splendidly developed.

Mrs. Palmer was discharged from custody and took her naked boy away in triumph.

ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.

Four Prisoners Cut Their Way Out of Cells With Hatchet.

Suffolk, Va., Nov. 17.—Having stolen a hatchet from some small boys who have access to the jail yard and who were in the habit of cutting kindling, four prisoners in Nansemond county jail all sentenced to state's prison, attempted a jail delivery a few nights ago.

The men had cut their way out of their cells and were in the corridor when Trusty Cary Burwell discovered them and reported the matter to Jailer J. H. Keen who phoned Sheriff Baker. When Sheriff Baker arrived at the scene he had the four men chained to their cells. The men who made the attempt were Don Wilkins, sentenced for four years for housebreaking; Charles Moton, pocketbook snatching, five years; Melvin Crocker, pocketbook snatching, three years; Levi Rooks, pocketbook snatching, three years.

BOYS CONFESS KILLING GIRL

Both, Only 13 Years Old, Charged With Deliberate Murder.

Boston, Nov. 17.—Charged with the deliberate murder of 12-year-old Mary Joyce, two 13-year-old boys, Thomas Foley and Christopher Harris, are held for a hearing, November 22. The police say they confess.

The boys are alleged to have fired a revolver at the little girl, the bullet entering her head. They fled to Providence, where they were arrested.

BOAT BURNS; MATE DROWNS

Steamer C. W. Lyon Destroyed With a Loss of $30,000.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 15.—Fire originating in some cotton amidships destroyed Friday the steamer C. W. Lyon on the Cape Fear river, 25 miles above here. Henry W. Edge, the mate, of Fayetteville, was drowned in attempting to escape.

The boat was backed to the side of the river and made fast to a tree. The crew and passengers jumped overboard, being cut off from land by the blaze. Edge could not swim and was drowned.

Harry J. Lyon, passenger, drifted a half mile clinging to a log before he was rescued. Miss Brisson, a passenger in rear of the boat, was rescued by Capt. W. F. Register. The cargo and boat were estimated at $30,000, partially covered by insurance.

Miss Wilson's Wedding Dress

Miss Jessie Wilson will be married in a gown of the finest quality of white charmeuse satin, embroidered down the front in white slik. The design, a conventional floral pattern, is the suggestion of Mrs. Wilson. The gown may be described as beautiful in its artistic simplicity. The skirt is draped slightly on either side front, just enough to relieve it from severe plainness of line. The cut at the throat is what might be called made low neck, the cut affected by the bride-elect almost every day. Beautiful white, flimsy shadow lace almost entirely covers the gown. The lace is draped from the shoulders. It is fitted in at the waist line and falls in a draped cascade effect almost to the hem of the skirt. The train is nearly three yards long. Over the whole costume will fall a handsome veil of white tulle.

STANDS BY WHIPPING POST.

Says Delaware Will Euforce its Laws Regardless of What Outsiders May Think.

Wilmington, Del. Nov. 17.—In answer to the cricitism of Delaware's whipping post, as the result of a resolution introduced in Congress by Congressman Evans, of Montana, Governor Charles R. Miller, in an interview at his home, made the following statement:

"The courts and other legal authorities of the State of Delaware will administer the internal affairs of the Commonwealth, regardless of any attempted interference by a member of Congress or of individuals residing in other states, who are ignorant of conditions and permit themselves to be misled by extravagant and highly colored newspaper articles. If the persons who have written me numerous letters, some of them abusive and insulting to the citizenship of the state, would pause to consider the state government in America is based upon statutory law enacted by the legis lature, elected by the people, they might realize that they are displayng ignorance when they demand that the governor suspend statutory laws. I will uphold the state's courts in the administration of the law, and warn all evildoers to give Delaware a wide berth if they wish to escape the whipping post."

He said that the whipping post has been the fundamental punishment for certain evildoers in Deleware since 1665 and will continue to be so far as he personally is concerned, until the people of their own free will decree otherwise.

Governor Miller personally favors the whipping post; he considers it one of the most effective barriers to vicious criminals and points to the minimum record of crime in Delaware as largely attributable to the fear and disgrace of the whipping post. With this mode of punishment abandoned he is of the belief that this city would become a stopping-off place for the biggest criminals in the country from four of the largest cities with which Wilmington is in line, namely New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

DARING VIRGINIA ROBBERIES.

Several Negro Suspects Arrested in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17—Four daring highway robberies and the finding of an unknown man, who is now dying in the Pennsylvania Hospital, all occurring within 24 hours yesterday, aroused the police of the downtown districts to the belief that an organized band of desperados were operating in South Philadelphia. It is thought that members of the band went about from place to place, attacking everyone who looked as if he had money.

A number of arrests of negroes were made and several of the crimes fastened upon them. However other men who are supposed to have taken part in the robberies have escaped, but the police declare that they will make a round-up today.

The most puzzling case is that of the man now in the hospital. He was found by Policeman Scull, of the Nineteenth district, lying on the street at the corner of Twenty-first and Lombard street. He was taken to the Polyclinic Hospital and revived there and sent to the station house. He was still so dazed, however, that he could not tell his name so he was taken back to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where he lapsed into unconsciousness.

MRS. GRINNELL DEAD.

Virginia Actress Spends Last Days In Poor House.

New York, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Ada Grinnell, an actress, who some two generations ago was starred at the head of her own company and who also played with the Edwin Forrest company at the old Astor Place Theatre, died in the hospital ward of the Flatbush poor house, at the age of 84.

Some six weeks ago Mrs. Grinnell was arraigned in the Gates avenue Police Court, Brooklyn, as a vagrant. Mrs. A. D. Hogan heard of the incident,and obtained permission from Magistrate Hyland to take the aged actress to her own home.

Mrs. Grinnell was born in Virginia of good family. At one time she is said to have had property, but through continued illness and idleness caused by her advanced age, the fortune was used up and a short time before her arrest as a vagrant she pawned her wedding ring for 50c to obtain food.

Mrs. Grinnell had two children, Ada and Benjamin, who years ago were on the vaudeville stage as "The Grinnell Children." The daughter is dead. The last heard of the son by acquaintances of Mrs. Grinnell was that he was in Alaska.
